

Population size over time. Life stage counts taken at the end of Summer, after growth, competition and reproduction, but before Winter survival. Grey line represents carrying capacity (K) for adults.